LONDON, Oct. 9.—Germany's great naval bases at Bremen and Wilhelmshaven were rocked by British bombs in terrific attacks by the royal air force last night and early today, the air ministry announced today.

In one of the war's greatest British counter-thrusts, RAF bombers smashed dozens of vital industrial areas in the Reich and continued incessant blasting of French channel invasion ports.

Krupp Works Target

The mighty Krupp works at Essen, the Fokker plant at Amsterdam, the Goodyear factory at Mannheim were among the targets. An official statement, outlining the fierce assault said:

"Aircraft of the bomber and coastal commands yesterday attacked the ports of Boulogne and Lorient.

"Last night the main bomber offensive was directed against the naval bases at Bremen and Wilhelmshaven, where extensive damage was done.

"Other forces attacked military objectives over a wide area of western Germany and Holland as well as enemy-occupied France.

Huge registration in Lawrence County is being matched with record registrations in other sections in this part of the United States, and indicates that a record vote will probably be cast at the November election. The third term issue is bringing out the increased registration and will undoubtedly be the biggest factor in the huge vote in November.

U. S. Is Seen Facing

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—The United States government steadily increased economic pressure against Japan today and braced the nation for a showdown in the Far East.

From a government, taut and sensitive to the movement of every international shadow, word was broadcast that this country is ready to meet any eventuality.

No attempt was made to hide a belief that Great Britain's scheduled reopening of the Burma road, the vital supply artery into China on October 17 might touch off the oriental powder keg. At the same time this government was placed squarely in support of this move by the reiterated words of Secretary of State Hull.

Japanese officials were on record with warnings that reopening of the Burma road would be viewed by their government as a hostile act. The newly tightened Japanese-German-Italian alliance has freely declared against any one point of the axis might bring the concerted action of all three against the offender.

WILLKIE MOTORCADE, In Connecticut, Oct. 9.—Through the "land of steady habits" Wendell Willkie rolled by automobile today hoping that the habit of voting for him in November is as steady as it was in June when Connecticut's 16 votes in the Republican convention came to him on the first ballot and never wavered.

But before departing New York for the New England invasion, Willkie trained heavy siege guns directed at President Roosevelt and demanded that he reveal to the nation whether there were any secret international understandings to put America into the current European war.

Willkie again repeated his pledge that under him there would be no "appeasement of the dictators" and promised that if elected president he would give the people themselves the opportunity to decide whether or not to go to war.

Administration Keeps Facts

In this speech before a cheering crowd in Roosevelt high school Willkie flatly charged the present Roosevelt administration was "not telling the truth" and was therefore "not qualified" to head the country in time of crisis.

"I want to talk to you about the simple subject of telling the truth," Willkie said. "The New Deal and the smart fellows in it believe that truth telling is old fashioned. I believe that telling the truth is an essential fundamental of government."

"I have been asking the president to tell me and the people how he stands on the third term. Now I want to ask him about a fourth term.

"An administration that is not telling the truth is not qualified to head the country in time of crisis or any other time. I want to ask the president, and I demand an answer: Secret Understanding

"Are there any international understandings to put America into the war that we citizens do not know about?"

"Maybe we people will not approve of them but we should know about them. We don't belong to the government; the government belongs to us. I have been repeatedly asked in my trips through the country if any such secret understandings exist."

SOUTH PORT, Eng., Oct. 9.—In a fighting speech to the British Trades Union Congress, Labor Minister Ernest Bevin today demanded increased efforts from British labor so that "for every bomb Hitler drops we will drop two."

Bevin, who became a member of the inner war cabinet during the recent governmental shuffle, declared:

"British labor has rescued the nation and the commonwealth from the blackest moment in its history."

Praising labor's cooperation in the war effort, Bevin demanded more and more work so that "for every bomb Hitler drops we will drop two."

"We must have equipment," said Bevin. "Force only will check these aggressors."

WITH THE WILLKIE MOTORCADE, In Connecticut, Oct. 9.—Wendell Willkie began his three day New England invasion today with tumultuous welcomes at Stamford and Norwalk.

Tens of thousands of persons crammed the public square and streets as the Republican presidential candidate's motorcade arrived in Stamford. Introduced for a brief speech by Governor Raymond Baldwin, Willkie pleaded for an "open mind."

Along the route to Norwalk, crowds lined the highway and in the city, 15,000 persons crowded Matthews Park. So loud was the din of cheering that Willkie's words were lost.

TOKYO, Oct. 9.—Maintaining a grim silence on British plans to reopen the Burma route, a Japanese foreign office spokesman today chided the government at Washington for advising Americans to return home from the Far East.

As for the British decision, announced by Premier Minister Winston Churchill, to reopen the Burma Road on October 17 to shipments of arms supplies destined for China, the spokesman would say only:

"The fact is too strong to allow comment."

(Editor's Note: Dispatches from Washington said no attempt was made there to hide a belief that Britain's scheduled reopening of the Burma Road might touch off a showdown in the Far East.)

The spokesman added that the government does not intend further diplomatic steps regarding the British decision.

At the same time he maintained that Japan cannot understand the action of the United States government in advising Americans in China, Japan and Manchukuo to return home.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 9.—As American residents of Shanghai cabled Washington for sufficient ships to enable wholesale evacuation, this famous city on the Whangpoo was turned into an armed camp tonight.

Tension mounted steadily and fears of violent incidents grew, while Shanghai authorities took all possible measures to protect the foreign population from possible molestation.

The 10th of October is both a Chinese and Japanese national holiday. Observers have long feared that hotheads might take advantage of the coincidence to touch off a riot.

All Shanghai volunteers were mobilized, police reservists called up and barbed-wire barricades erected on all except the three main thoroughfares of the city.

Motorists Searched
Motorists were stopped and searched, while police scoured famed Nanking road probing into rooming houses and hotels for suspicious persons and possible arms caches.

Authorities particularly looked for terrorists who may have been sent into Shanghai both from Chungking, seat of the Chinese Nationalist government, and from Nanking, where a Japanese-patrolled puppet government holds sway.

The appeal to Washington was sent by the American Association, composed of most of the American residents of Shanghai, upon receipt of advice from the consulate for all United States citizens to leave China, Japan and Manchukuo without delay.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—The United States today moved to bring the Pacific fleet's personnel up to full strength, Secretary of Navy Frank Knox announcing that 4,200 additional naval recruits will, immediately join warships being overhauled in west coast ports.

Simultaneously, Knox announced that 1,600 marines guarding the international settlements at Shanghai, Peking and Tientsin would not be withdrawn as reported under consideration yesterday at the State Department.

Assignment of the additional naval recruits to the fleet was in accord with this government's plans to bring the crews of all warships up to 100 percent footing, the present strength only averaging about 82 percent. In this connection Knox disclosed that of the reserve forces called into active service last Sunday, 30 local defense divisions will report for duty as soon as quarters can be provided, while fleet divisions will be ordered to report as they are needed to man the warships.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—In one of the most pitiful disasters of the war, 108 patients—mostly old men and women—were killed or injured by a bomb which struck a London hospital during the long Nazi raid on the capital last night and early today.

ADD MANY HOSPITALS.—11. Revelation of the extent of the casualties in the hospital came late this morning as gunfire, bomb explosions and heavy anti-aircraft fire heralded a new air raid alarm in the capital—the city's 187 since the war began.

Tremendous Air Battle
It appeared that a tremendous air battle was in progress above the clouds.

Suddenly a German Dornier bomber dived out of the clouds at a London suburb. British fighting planes followed the Nazi craft with heavy bursts of machine-gun fire and the raider quickly climbed back toward the clouds.

Editor's Note: A Berlin announcement said strong forces of German planes took off during the morning to resume attacks on Britain.

The bomb that hit the hospital fell on the center of the institution's main building, tearing out three wards and reducing them to a heap of debris. Fire broke out but was subdued quickly.

Victims Invalids

All the victims were helpless invalids, doomed by their ailments to lives of chronic illness.

Three hundred patients in other wards were safe. But several nurses and other staff members were killed outright.

Excess Profits
Bill Is Signed

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—The White House today announced that President Roosevelt had signed the excess profits tax bill designed to raise $1,000,000,000 yearly to help finance defense and to prevent creation of "war millionaires."

The measure had been just as strongly urged by Mr. Roosevelt to remove a "bottle-neck" in the defense program by allowing corporations expanding for defense purposes to amortize plant expansion in five years.

Congress attached a "rider" which sets up a government insurance plan for the armed forces, under which draftees and National Guardsmen can buy $10,000 worth of life insurance at low rates.

Assert Attacks Are Retaliation For British Raids On Berlin

CLAIM HEAVY DAMAGE CAUSED

(International News Service) BERLIN, Oct. 9.—German warplanes swarmed from their bases this morning in strong numbers to resume smashing attacks on Britain, it was officially announced today.

Soaring over bomb-rocked Britain in the wake of night raiders, the fresh squadrons of German planes once more concentrated on vital military targets in the metropolitan-industrial areas, it was stated. At the same time it was announced that night attacks on London, Liverpool and Dover had wrought heavy damage to gas works and industrial plants in "most successful and heavy attack."

In addition to terrifically effective bombardment, German raiders shot down 11 British planes at a cost of only three German craft in bitter aerial fighting yesterday, it was announced.

These raiders, in swift retaliation for royal air force raids on Berlin, showered Britain with 360 tons of high explosive and incendiary bombs, concentrating their attacks on London, it was announced.

According to informed quarters, this represented almost 40 times the weight of British bombs which fell on German territory, estimated at 10 tons.

U. S. IS SEEN FACING FAR EAST SHOWDOWN

States pursued a firm and apparently relentless course of choking the stream of vital supplies from American shores to the Orient. New and broader moves were hinted as top-ranking government officials surveyed the critical situation in the Pacific during conferences held behind tightly closed doors.

May Remove Marines
Paralleling these steps, the work of clearing all possible Americans out of the far east got underway at the state department. President Roosevelt "studied maps" with commanders of the nation's sea forces, and even removal of the handful of American marines in the affected areas was given consideration.

Dispatches from Tokyo attributing to Japanese sources the view that British action in reopening the Burma road, closed three months ago, represented a common U. S.-British front went unchallenged in official circles here. No efforts were made to discount the words of British Ambassador Lord Lothian, uttered after an hour's conference with President Roosevelt, referring to "the approaching far eastern crisis."

Bulwarking the stiffening American attitude apparently in defiance of Japan, the navy's fleet commander in chief, Admiral James O. Richardson, said after a talk with the president that he was returning to Hawaii with "several thousand men," and added they were "badly needed."

Physical moves viewed here as directed specifically against the Japanese were climaxed with state-agriculture department action suspending shipments of subsidized wheat and wheat flour to oriental ports that might be controlled by the Japanese. This subsidy, originally established to aid the American farmer in disposing of wheat, had given the Orient a price of 30 cents a bushel below the world average.

slaughter which followed yesterday's colossal attacks more than 100 separate points in the London area, the nearby home counties and in southern England were bombed by Nazi raiders.

The night raid, which covered a wide area, was described as the heaviest yet carried out by the Nazis under cover of darkness. Incendiary bombs were showered on some districts while others were hammered with high explosives.

Latest reports, however, indicated that casualties were relatively small and far from proportionate to the extent of the raids.

Fly At Low Altitudes
Taking advantage of heavy rain clouds, the night raiders flew at low altitudes to unload their heavy caliber bombs and many Molotov bread-baskets (clusters of incendiaries) over the attacked districts, causing severe damage.

One high explosive bomb scored a direct hit on a public shelter, wrecking the structure and killing eight persons. Many others were injured.

A second bomb damaged a block of apartments opposite the shelter, killing three persons. Five more bombs demolished a London laundry, to which a raider later returned and machine-gunned people searching through the ruins for buried victims.

Another completely wrecked two houses and adjoining streets in London. Occupants of the houses, sleeping in the cellars, were rescued by air raid precaution squads.

Throughout the night the sky over the capital was spangled with bursting shells and filled with the rolling echoes of a thunderous anti-aircraft barrage.

The long night attack marked the 186th air raid on London since the war began. The final hour of the alarm was comparatively quiet in contrast to the earlier part.

in the Far East, with nothing spectacular happening," the spokesman asserted.

The spokesman said United States Ambassador Joseph C. Grew had not informed the Japanese foreign office of the American evacuation decision and he replied in the negative when asked whether Japan was contemplating similar evacuation of its nationals from America.

Nullifies Decision
Japanese newspapers carried lengthy comments maintaining that the entry of Nipponese forces into French Indo-China had nullified the British decision to reopen the Burma Road.

"Cutting the Burma Road within Chinese territory has become an easy matter."

Yomiuri added that both Britain and the United States "must have been aware of this" and "must assume all responsibility for the consequences."

Nichiichi said: "The time is past for negotiations with Britain. The effects of entry of our forces into Indo-China will soon be felt."

Other Japanese papers blamed American influence for the British Burma Road decision but stressed that Japan is ready to "reply fearlessly" and take "any action in the event of necessity."

The Great Game Of Politics

It makes Mr. Roosevelt's Philadelphia talk about "free elections" being essential to the maintenance of our institution seem ironical, indeed. Support of such a gigantic Federal organization, financed through tax funds, plus support of city machines such as the Hague machine in New Jersey, the Kelly-Nash machine in Chicago and the Flynn machine in New York, seem to diminish the freedom of this election almost to the vanishing point.

IT is upon this support Mr. Roosevelt relies. Without it there would be no chance of his election a third time. A majority of the uncontrolled, unsubsidized voters are unquestionably against him. But, it seems an insuperable handicap that he should have so many million votes to start with. And it would be insuperable but for certain fortunate facts. One of these is that a considerable proportion of the five million who receive AAA checks; of the two and a half million on relief and of the other millions, in one way or another, on the Federal pay rolls, live in the eleven States of the Solid South which are unshakably Democratic anyhow.

A SECOND fact that in the West a considerable proportion of the farmers getting AAA checks are naturally Republicans and Conservatives. At heart they do not believe in the New Deal philosophy and refuse to sell their votes. A third fact is that in the pivotal States of the North there are a very large number of Negroes on the WPA rolls. These supported Mr. Roosevelt almost solidly in 1936, but have been measurably swinging back to their Republican moorings since. It is estimated that at least fifty per cent came back in 1938. These things diminish the weight of the handicap, but the advantage the President has is still very great. If he did not have it he would not be running.

IT is not an insuperable advantage, but to overcome it Mr. Wilkie has got to get more than a mere majority of the undetached, unsubsidized voters. He has got to get a majority of them. But that should not be difficult if once the facts are clearly grasped. Because it is clearly to the interests of the majority not on the pay roll to prevent the minority on the pay roll from keeping themselves infinitely in power. This plous talk about "free elections" coming from a President relying upon so vast a machine for his chance of election is an affront to the intelligence.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright, 1940, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

PREVENTABLE ACCIDENTS

Well, the big moving season of the city dwellers is here, and thousands of couples who looked over numbers of houses or apartments, and considered all sorts of things before they chose their new dwellings, will soon be discovering there are things they didn't consider enough.

Possibly, for example, they didn't realize that in this new location, their children would have to cross six or seven busy streets to get to school.

Six of every thousand children in this world today are crippled, and about 11 per cent of them, it has been figured, are crippled because of accidents that could have been avoided.

We all know what a toll traffic accidents take among our young. In a great many of the cases, of course, the fault lies with the child, but lack of foresight by parents and lack of training in safety is usually back of this fault.

It seems to me that crippled child is more deserving of sympathy than almost any other human being. His affliction in nearly all cases is no fault of his. Yet he may have to suffer because of it all of his life. In childhood it may cause him the loss of most of the joys of others of his age and perhaps a great deal of loneliness. Very often there is also recurring pain connected with his particular condition. As he grows up the injury or deformity may naturally affect every phase of his existence and it may warp his whole outlook on life until he is a bitter and frustrated person.

Fortunately, the problem of the crippled child is being given a lot of attention now. Prospects of all are far different from those a hundred years ago when the crippled child could expect little or no help from doctors. The cripple was usually deprived of an education because of having to stay home, unless his family was one of the few prosperous enough to afford a private tutor. Also, many parents in those days were superstitious enough to believe that a crippled child was a "punishment" imposed on them for some offense, and they dared not attempt to alleviate its condition. Belief that the sins of the parents must be visited upon the children has resulted in many tragedies.

In this day and age, thankfully, there is more than a fair chance that a crippled child may be cured by surgery. Educational facilities are arranged for crippled children in most communities so that they receive the same advantages as their healthy friends. When they are able to leave home, special schools train them in vocations in which their disabilities will not be disadvantages. Cripples or ex-cripples have become some of the greatest and happiest men and women of our time.

A century ago about one child in four was crippled, most of them born with some congenital defect. Spread of knowledge of proper prenatal care and advances in surgical correction of defects at birth have been great factors in reducing the number to the present average of seven per thousand. Post-natal surgery is reducing the figure still more. A few decades ago children born with a club-foot were considered doomed to be cripples all their lives. This trouble can be corrected now without much difficulty.

Tomorrow: The Child With Club-Foot.

Andrew Dodds To Head Christmas Seal Committee

Deputy County Controller
Named As Campaign Chairman By Society

In an announcement made today the Lawrence County Tuberculosis society made public the selection of Andrew Dodds, Deputy County Controller, as chairman of the Christmas Seal Committee.

Mr. Dodds, well-known sportsman and an active member of the Men's Garden club, will have charge of the annual campaign for the sale of Christmas Seals, to be launched in the near future by the local Tuberculosis society.

Because of the success of last year's sale, the county society has continued its everlasting fight against the disease, during the past months, and this year's work has been so extended as to greatly increase the activities of the society. Mr. Dodds plans to begin his work immediately and will start to name his aides and select the various committee members to help in the campaign.

Distribution Of Ballots Started

Being Sent To County Boards
From State Elections
Bureau

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Oct. 9.—Distribution of the official ballots for the fall election today was begun by the state elections bureau. The ballots are being sent to all county boards of election.

Making an innovation, the 1940 ballots will, for the first time, not list the names of the presidential electors. Instead, the names of the candidates for president and vice president will appear under the heading of "presidential electors" and a vote for them will be considered as a vote cast for the electors. Under the former plan of voting, ballots were cast for the presidential electors rather than for the candidates themselves. The electors will meet about one month after election and officially cast their ballots for the candidates for president and vice president.

Purpose of the change, affected by the 1937 legislature, was to shorten the ballot. Listed on the official ballots are also the names of state and local candidates running this fall.

Both Candidates To Return To Pennsylvania

May Be In State At Same Time

Both Willkie and President Roosevelt To Visit State Later In Month

PRESIDENT COMES THIS WEEK ALSO

International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Oct. 9.—With both parties making strenuous efforts to carry Pennsylvania, a pivotal state this year, the possibility arose today that the Keystone state may play host to both presidential candidates simultaneously.

Following his trip to Pennsylvania on Friday, President Roosevelt will visit the state again "during the last 10 days of October" to pay an inspection trip to defense industries in Harrisburg, suburban Steelton, Philadelphia and Chester, Democratic state campaign manager Luther A. Harr disclosed.

Return Visit By Willkie

Present plans for Wendell L. Willkie, the Republican candidate for president, call for a return visit to the state during the week of October 21 when he will tour the hard coal regions of northeastern Pennsylvania, with speeches at Scranton and Wilkes-Barre.

President Roosevelt will omit the state capital on his trip to Pennsylvania this week and his special train will go directly to Johnstown Friday morning where U. S. Sen. Joseph P. Guffey, Democratic state chairman Meredith Meyers, and Harr will board his train for the trip to Pittsburgh.

The president is expected to spend several hours in Pittsburgh inspecting the steel mills, which now are working on government defense orders, and in dedicating Terrace Village, a federal low cost housing project.

From Pittsburgh the president will travel to Dayton, Ohio, where he will deliver his hemisphere speech on defense over the radio.

President To Return

On his third trip into the state President Roosevelt will visit the plants of the Harrisburg Steel company plant in the shadow of the state capitol and the Bethlehem Steel company plant at nearby Steelton. He may also visit the Indiantown Gap military reservation near Harrisburg which the government has taken over as a training camp.

He will then return to Philadelphia, which he visited last month, for an inspection tour of the government's Frankford arsenal and Cramp's shipyard, which is expected to reopen soon after being closed for some time.

The president will also visit the Sun Shipbuilding company at Chester, thus invading the home territory of Joseph N. Pew, Jr., company official and state Republican party leader.

The New York Shipbuilding company at Camden, N. J., and the Du Pont plants at Wilmington, Del., will also be visited on the same trip, Harr revealed.

Pushing Work At Indiantown Gap

Permanent Military Training Camp Being Built In Pennsylvania

(International News Service)

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa., Oct. 9.—With U. S. Army engineers supervising the work, construction of a permanent military training camp at Indiantown Gap was underway today aimed at housing 15,000 soldiers.

Contracts totalling about $6,000,000 already have been let for the construction program. Adjutant General Edward Martin, head of the Pennsylvania National Guard, said the reservation would be leased by the state to the federal government, which is paying all the bills for this and similar projects throughout the nation.

"Negotiations are practically complete," General Martin declared, "except for the formal signing of the lease."

Army engineers on the job explained that all construction work must be completed by January 2 at which time the 28th Pennsylvania division is expected to be mustered into service.

Telephone News Surveys Industry

What Is Going On In Preparedness Efforts In Pennsylvania Graphically Shown

This month's issue of The Telephone News, published in the interests of the Bell Telephone Company, is one of the most unusual which has ever been issued, and portrays in a graphic manner, what is being done by industry in Pennsylvania and Delaware to better prepare this country for national defense.

Pictures and stories of the great industries which are cooperating in turning out munitions, airplanes, and ships are included in the survey.

In all this, the Bell Telephone Company is also co-operating by providing increased telephone facilities to speed up communication and they will be ready to throw their vast system over to the use of the government if war actually comes to this nation.

The October issue is a splendid one, worth preserving in the files of those interested in preparedness.

Junior Achievement Plan Outlined Here

Junior Chamber, Plant Men
Hear Pittsburgher At Banquet

How the much-talked-about Junior Achievement, Inc. movement has skyrocketed to nationwide prominence in a very short time was told to members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at a banquet in The Castleton last night.

Close to 85 persons heard J. Blair Easter, executive director of Pittsburgh Junior Achievement, Inc., describe the Pittsburgh "home industry" organization operations.

A special feature of the Junior Chamber formed Youth Development Council is to spread Junior Achievement enthusiasm here, and operating executives of local industrial plants.

Easter, introduced by J. Preston Flaherty, executive of Johnson Bronze Co., described the way in which boys from 16 to 21 years form "miniature corporations" and go to work producing articles and products of almost every description.

The boys themselves invest small funds—$1 or more or less—and work hard to expand and increase their business. One Pittsburgh unit—they're called "panies"—boosted its capital from $8 to $600. Many of the Pittsburgh "panies" are healthy businesses today, Easter said.

A member of the Pittsburgh Junior Chamber of Commerce, with Easter, told how older fellows help by serving as advisors to the "panies."

President Earl C. Felt presided at the meeting. He named Howard Warnock to supervise the Junior Chamber's co-operation in the sale of 1940 Christmas seals. Earlier Mrs. Sylvia Sturdevant had spoken in behalf of the seal drive.

The Junior Chamber is lending its full support to the Junior Achievement effort locally.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lewis, of 916 Marshall avenue, have received an air mail and ordinary letter, during the past few days, from their daughter, Cecelia, in French West Africa.

The letter states that Miss Lewis and Miss Sallie Botham, who are missionaries in the above location, are both in good health. The former has been sixteen years, and the latter twenty-six years, in that work.

Miss Lewis states that war conditions have greatly delayed the mail and they feel cut off from the world around. It took six weeks for the airmail letter to arrive here, and three months for the ordinary letter. Although the airmail letter was written on light paper and only a leaf and a half, Miss Lewis had to trim off all the border and empty space on the paper, to bring it to the allowed weight, for seventy-five cents, a little over would be one dollar and fifty cents.

The letter goes on to state they are not allowed any gasoline for their car, and they would soon be without kerosene for their refrigerator, but Miss Lewis says they have done without before, and can get along without it again. Staple articles are getting scarce, but have enough saccharin for some time, thanks to her parents who have been sending it to them in powder form in letters for some time.

Several missionaries are due for a furlough, but being unable to get ocean transportation, have to stay at their posts.

Miss Lewis states that sometimes they stand at their wits end, but she knows they are safe in God's keeping.

She desires the folks here at home to know that she will answer their letters, some received long ago, as soon as there is a way to get their mail out.

Misses Lewis and Botham are missionaries from the Christian and Missionary Alliance church, here.

Girl Scouts To Aid During Fire Prevention Week

Are Cooperating With Junior Red Cross In Making Fire Prevention Week Successful

This week throughout the country, hundreds of thousands of people will cooperate in Fire Prevention Week, October 6-12. The week always includes October 9, anniversary of the Chicago fire. One of the leading groups which will use the time as a constructive fire prevention aid are some 600,000 Girl Scouts.

The community-conscious group of girls from seven to eighteen makes a special plea to the country. For the future citizens, they hope for an aware intelligent citizenship which will include the reduction of the "normal" figure of more than a thousand dwelling fires a day.

Cooperating with the Junior Red Cross, they are carefully checking the home safety blanks distributed through the schools this week. These contain a check list of fire hazards in the home and a pledge for greater care in fire prevention during the coming year. Scouts are hoping to establish a record of no preventable accidents or fires in their homes this winter.

Cincinnati Captures World Championship

Paul Derringer Outpitches Buck Newsom To Give Reds 2 To 1 Victory

Ripple And F. McCormick Hit Doubles In Seventh That Start Reds On Way

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Editor
CROSBY FIELD, Cincinnati, Oct. 9.—For the first time in 21 years the Cincinnati Reds won the baseball championship of the world Tuesday when Paul Derringer, big Kentucky right-hander, out-pitched Buck Newsom of the Detroit Tigers to score a spectacular victory before a howling crowd that was utterly beserk with excitement toward the close of a tense and spectacular battle that ended 2 to 1.

It was as close as the score shows, but more thrilling than any other world series game of recent years as Derringer scored his second triumph of this series in this all-important seventh game and slammed the door of the hall of fame in the face of his burly opponent, a big South Carolinian with a soft drawl and a high hard one.

One Bad Inning
Newsom had scored two previous triumphs and this time was courting with entry in the shrine of those few who have won three vic-tories in a single world series. He almost did it, too.

He missed by the margin of just one bad inning, while the crowd roared and hollered and fairly screamed in the ecstasy of excitement and anticipation. They were for Derringer, of course, and utterly carried away by the excitement of the occasion as the two pitchers each turned in a seven-hit game.

The turning point for Newsom leaped up at him out of nowhere in a wild seventh inning when the Reds scored both of their runs to come behind and nullify the one made by the Tigers in the third. Newsom had allowed only four hits going into the seventh and seemed on his way to an achievement when Frank McCormick, who hadn't shone too brilliant in the series up to now, smashed a double to left field. Jimmy Ripple, a castoff from several clubs and a hero in this series, then doubled off the right field screen. Meantime, McCormick de-layed his start around toward home base. Campbell would make the catch.

Campbell couldn't, with the ball soaring over his head into the barrier, and with that McCormick tore out for third and charged on to ward the plate.

He had at least a 50-50 chance of catching McCormick at home, which would have brought one out and a man on second instead of a run in, out and a man on second. A sacrifice and a long fly by Billy Myers brought Ripple home with what ultimately and finally was the winning run.

Thus did the Reds win the world championship and Derringer score a victory over Buck Newsom.

Five Grid Games For Local Teams

Union Township Followers Hopeful Of Victory Against Bessemer

ELLWOOD BATTLES MONACA SATURDAY

Nearing mid-season form, county grid elevens are girding for another busy week-end.

With five games on the docket, in and near the county, local grid enthusiasts foresee a thrill packed week-end ahead.

The biggest crowd of the season is expected to converge upon Bessemer field Friday afternoon to watch Bessemer and Union Township match wits in a game involving the county class B bunting. While a definite starting time hasn't been announced as yet, the clash will probably get underway at 2:30 o'clock.

The starting whistle will bring together a pair of victory hungry teams. Bessemer suffered its second setback of the campaign last week, losing to Greenville, while Union Township dropped its third decision to a major foe, a 13-7 loss to Grove City.

A victory hope is becoming more prevalent throughout Union Township. Followers of the Scotland Lane horde noting a definite improvement in their eleven, are much encouraged. Brown, Boron, Dudo, Carpenter, Snelzeck, Allen, Taylor, Viton, Kline, Jaskolka and Ring-bloom will probably start for Union.

Somewhat crippled by injuries and illness, Bessemer will not be at full strength for the game. Coach Capezzuti said today that he is attempting to muster the strongest possible attack in the hope of grabbing the important game.

The winning eleven will have only to setback Shenango Township to nail the coveted title.

SHENANGO-FREEDOM

With his squad in fair condition, Coach Hank Nocera is priming his Shenango Township eleven for Freedom High, Friday's opponent on Shenango field. The game starts at 2:15 o'clock.

The East New Castle club played minus the services of four varsity men against Zelienople. A much needed rest over the past week-end gave the ailing griders an opportunity to regain their form.

Freedom comes here with another powerful eleven according to valley reports.

ELLWOOD-MONACA

Imbued with confidence following a 7-6 triumph over Butler's plucky clan, Ellwood City High hopes to ring up another triumph Saturday afternoon when the Wolverines meet Monaca, at Monaca.

The game looms as one of the headliners on Ellwood's card.

CANES-TIGERS

New Castle High and McKeesport renew hostilities here Friday night at 8 o'clock.

McKeesport will trot onto the sod of Taggart stadium with one of the classic clubs in the Class AA circles.

TITANS-YOUNGSTOWN

Westminster battles Youngstown college, Thursday night at Youngstown, in another stout clash.

The Titans are mapping out an attack designed to halt the mad rushing Penguins.

Ray Sargent Joins Hole-In-One Club

Probably the last golfing season was turned in by Ray Sargent of 226 Garfield avenue last Sunday at the Castle Hills golf course. The shot occurred on the Number 2 174-yard short hole. Sargent used a Number 4 iron, it was reported by Larry Gramling, manager of Castle Hills.

The ball lit on the green and slowly trickled to the hole and dropped in, with Sargent and his partners getting very excited. Who would it?

Playing with Sargent and attesting to the hole-in-one were Ray Smith Sutton Smith, and Ed Patton.

Bears-Colonels Battle Tonight

(International News Service)
NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 9.—The Newark Bears will trounce the strong right arm of Steve Peek to hurl them to victory in the Little World Series here tonight. With the Bears leading the series 3 to 2 Louisville will use Charlie Wagner in hopes of evening the series. Peek and Wagner, winners of 11 straight, started against each other in the third game but the contest was decided after they were in the showers. Last night's game was rained out.

SOUTH HILLS

South Hills baseball team will meet at Marino's tonight at 8 o'clock.

Connie Mack isn't telling whether he's asking waivers on Benny McCoy. "Lookit," he said when queried, "we in baseball are like women—we like to be able to change our minds."

Every section of Lawrence county, and in fact, many other communities, will be represented when the field trials of the Lawrence County Sportsman's association are held between 8 a. m. and midnight at the Fair grounds, Saturday. Sket and trap shooting will feature the night's festivities. There'll be trials for bird dogs, coon chases, pistol, rifle, trap and skeet shooting, bait and fly casting. The rising bear will leap up and down and the running deer will attempt to baffle deer hunters. Archery and 22 rifle shooting and casting events are carded for the women-folk. Not so many years ago a crowd of 15,000 was estimated in attendance. Recently, counter-attractions caused a descent to 5,000 and during the last several years not that many attended the trials. However, there's no counter-attractions Saturday and attendance figures should be high.

John Michalak of Los Angeles was named president and Paul Coultas, Pittsburgh, vice president of the Racing Pigeon union at Los Angeles. Some years ago pigeon races here occurred almost every week and with war scares prevailing throughout the country it is likely that in a centering of thought on racing or homing pigeons which are vital in times of actual war.

A new gate receipts record was established in the baseball series, now finished. The 1940 series between the Reds and Tigers, won by the Reds, drew $1,321,617.24, which included $100,000 broadcasting fees. Each Red will draw $5,762 and each Tiger $5,519, either of which is a nice "leaf of lettuce" to have in one's pocket as King Winter prepares to grow.

Mrs. Lee F. Masen of Edgewood won the low gross honors at the Butler County club, Tuesday. She shot a 43-48-86 to pace more than 100 golfers.

Paul Milosevich, Illinois' halfback, passes, throws and bats in baseball and shoots in basketball with his right hand but punts 60 yards with his left foot.

There are 22 graduates of Illinois in coaching who are head coaches at colleges and universities throughout the country, according to the 1940 official Spalding football guide.

Jim Thorpe, the former Carlisle Indians grid idol, missed a speaking date at Lehigh last week because of an automobile breakdown.

Plan Testimonial For Jimmy Ripple In His Home Town

(International News Service)
JEANNETTE, Pa., Oct. 9.—Jimmy Ripple's home town friends "went to bat" for the world series hero today with plans for a dinner in his honor on October 15.

A hastily-formed committee of friends, headed by Attorney George L. Ely telegraphed invitations to Ripple, who hit in the tying run and scored the winning run that gave Cincinnati the series, and Bill McKee, his manager, immediately after the game.

The dinner will be held at the Greensburg Country club. Other baseball dignitaries as well as sports and news writers will be on the guest list, it was announced by Joseph P. Sheridan, one of the committeemen.

War Has Created Greater Demand For Black Walnut

Wood Widely Used For Gun Stocks And Plane Propellers

HARRISBURG, Oct. 9.—Indications point to an increasing demand for black walnut as a result of military preparations, since this wood is widely used in the manufacture of gun stock and airplane propellers, Chas. E. Baer, Deputy Secretary of the Department of Forests and Waters, said today.

Black walnut occurs naturally in localities throughout the state but is rare in the northern part. Due to the high value of the wood there has been a rapid depletion in the supply. The wood is heavier and harder than mahogany but lighter than oak and strong, and seldom checks or warps after seasoning. Highly desirable characteristics include color, figure and the fine polish which the wood takes.

Although the uses are very numerous most of the walnut is manufactured into furniture, fixtures and cabinets, fire arms, musical instruments, planing mill products and general millwork.

Black walnut lumber brings higher prices than any other kind of timber grown on the farm. The scarcity and expected increased demand for this wood will undoubtedly advance its value. The prices paid for black walnut logs vary and depend on the quality, size and location.

Thrifty one-year old black walnut seedlings can be purchased from the Department of Forest and Waters at $2 per thousand.

Allegheny Countians Hope To Avenge 1932 Setback Under Lights Here Friday

McKEE IS ONLY DOUBTFUL STARTER

The McKeesport Tigers football team will come here Friday night to try and avenge that 1932 setback given them by the New Castle High "Red Hurricanes". McKeesport after a slow start has looked good the past few games, defeating Clairton and East Pittsburgh. The game here Friday starts at 8 o'clock.

On paper the New Castle team has the edge, winning four and being tied once. The Tigers have dropped two and won three. But these paper advantages mean little in the actual playing field. There is no secret to the fact that the McKeesport team has been pointing for the New Castle game, just as all teams do that play the "Red Hurricanes". Coach Jack Tinson wants badly to dump the local apple-cart all over Taggart Stadium. This has been done very few times.

McKee Doubtful Starter

The New Castle players came out of the Sharon game without any serious injuries. Young Freddy McKee has a bruised shoulder and may not start Friday night. Roberts is also still nursing two banged up shoulders.

If McKee does not start at blocking quarter it will be Ben Izzo no doubt. Bridenbaugh stated. The New Castle team resumed intensive training Tuesday afternoon. Pass defense is being stressed along with a passing attack. Having been scouted by the McKeesportians for several games Bridenbaugh will elect to change his attack just a bit.

Tickets for the game are now on sale at the Sporting Goods store 105 North Mercer street. McKeesport will win several hundred here for the game it is expected.

Following are the records to date of both teams—

Allegheny Countians Hope To Avenge 1932 Setback Under Lights Here Friday

McKEE IS ONLY DOUBTFUL STARTER

The McKeesport Tigers football team will come here Friday night to try and avenge that 1932 setback given them by the New Castle High "Red Hurricanes". McKeesport after a slow start has looked good the past few games, defeating Clairton and East Pittsburgh. The game here Friday starts at 8 o'clock.

On paper the New Castle team has the edge, winning four and being tied once. The Tigers have dropped two and won three. But these paper advantages mean little in the actual playing field. There is no secret to the fact that the McKeesport team has been pointing for the New Castle game, just as all teams do that play the "Red Hurricanes". Coach Jack Tinson wants badly to dump the local apple-cart all over Taggart Stadium. This has been done very few times.

McKee Doubtful Starter

The New Castle players came out of the Sharon game without any serious injuries. Young Freddy McKee has a bruised shoulder and may not start Friday night. Roberts is also still nursing two banged up shoulders.

If McKee does not start at blocking quarter it will be Ben Izzo no doubt. Bridenbaugh stated. The New Castle team resumed intensive training Tuesday afternoon. Pass defense is being stressed along with a passing attack. Having been scouted by the McKeesportians for several games Bridenbaugh will elect to change his attack just a bit.

Tickets for the game are now on sale at the Sporting Goods store 105 North Mercer street. McKeesport will win several hundred here for the game it is expected.

Following are the records to date of both teams—

New Castle 14-Grove City 6

New Castle 6-Butler 6

Market Meets Some Support After Lower Opening Of Some Stocks

By LESLIE GOULD
(International News Service Financial Writer)
NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The stock market met some support today after a lower opening, but the majority of issues continued to trade at a level in a row. Changes were extremely narrow in most cases and trading continued at a slow pace.

Steel movements were typical of the general list. Bethlehem and U. S. Steel each converted early fractional losses into small gains then slipped back to last night's closing levels late in the forenoon. Youngstown Sheet & Tube was lower while Crucible moved up a fraction.

There were a few notable price changes. Du Pont and Howe Sound each dropped 2 points before meeting support, while American Can, Cerro de Pasco, Eastman Kodak and U. S. Gypsum each lost a point or more at their early lows.

Motors, electrical equipments and rubbers were mixed. Mail orders, civil building shares and aircraft shares lost a little ground.

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 9.—In this series of articles, one of which will appear in this paper each day for a week, the Community Center Investigating Committee will present to the public some of the results of its investigations into the possibilities of having a Community Center in Ellwood City, and its recommendations on what must be done in order to obtain such a Community Center.

The first work of the Committee was to investigate just what Ellwood City needs in the way of a Community Program, and their findings are as follows:

The first, and probably the greatest need, is for a recreational program for younger boys and girls, to take the place of the summer playgrounds, during the balance of the year.

The second great need, in the opinion of the Committee, is for a program of constructive leisure time activity, for young people of High School age and over. This could be in the form of Hobby-Shop work, activities for developing special talents, and educational and wholesome entertainment.

A third need is for a program to interest adults, with a view to bringing about better community understanding.

A survey has shown that existing programs and agencies are not adequate to take care of these needs, and that some of the less privileged young people of Ellwood City have few opportunities for wholesome social times.

No New Building Needed

The Community Center Investigating Committee, as one of its primary steps, made a survey of facilities already available in Ellwood City, in the way of buildings, which could be utilized in a Community Center Program.

This survey showed that Ellwood City possesses many assets, in the way of social halls, church basements, vacant buildings, and public properties, which could be made available for such use; and after consideration of these available facilities, the Committee has reached the conclusion that no new building is necessary for the successful operation of a Community Center Program in Ellwood City.

The Committee believes, and its beliefs are borne out by results in other communities, that a successful program can best be built from assets which we already have, in the form of buildings, which could be reconditioned and made usable as well as equipped, with available N. Y. A. and volunteer help, at little or no expense.
